SCHOOL REPORT.

---

BLANCHARD.

Spring term, Miss M. Ellen Emerson, instructor. Miss E. is a young lady of good abilities, a graduate of Plymouth high school, and had attended the normal school one year. Commendable progress was made in this school, the last half being the most profitable. With more experience we think Miss E. will make a successful teacher. W. H. C.

Fall term, taught by Miss J. Stella Holmes, a teacher of twelve years' experience in the public schools of the state. A good moral influence was exercised, the school well disciplined, and more than usual progress made in some of the studies pursued. The closing exercises were conclusive evidence that good work had been done. W. H. C.

Winter term, Miss Mamie Connor, teacher. Miss C. possesses the faculty of gaining the good will of her scholars. Good attention was given the smaller pupils. This school would average well with other schools in town. W. H. C.

CENTER.

The school, for the entire year, was in charge of Miss Elizabeth F. Houser, and the three terms were successful. E. J. M.

UPLANDS.

Spring term was under the charge of Mrs. Leonora Peverly. Mrs. P. is a teacher of experience, and understands how to interest her pupils. The closing exercises showed advancement in the studies pursued. W. H. C.

Fall term taught by Mrs. S. E. Small. Mrs. S. has kept one term of this school each year for three years past, and has given good satisfaction. The pupils of this school have steadily diminished in number, while those remaining have as steadily advanced in scholarship. W. H. C.

SHAKERS.

The summer and fall terms were taught by Miss Jessie Evans. The winter term was taught by Miss Edna E. Fitts. This school, for the three terms, has been a complete success, and the Shaker society is to be congratulated on having the services of two such efficient teachers.

C. N. C.

HACKLEBOROUGH.

The summer term was taught by Miss Nellie A. Dow, with good results.

The fall and winter terms were satisfactorily taught by Mrs. Seth W. Jones.

E. J. M.

BOROUGH.

There were two terms of this school, taught by Miss Stella N. Sargent, who gave satisfaction.

E. J. M.

EMERY.

Winter term taught by Miss Mary P. Brown. Miss Brown possesses the elements requisite for a thorough, practical and successful teacher. This is a quiet, orderly little school and excellent results were attained. Through the summer and fall terms these pupils were conveyed to the Carter school.

C. N. C.

CARTER.

Summer and fall terms taught by Miss Mittie L. Emery, who fully sustained her former reputation as teacher. A good degree of improvement was made by all the pupils.

The winter term was taught by Miss Alice G. Adams. Miss Adams proved herself an earnest, patient worker, and has the faculty of gaining the respect of her pupils. We were pleased with the quiet, orderly conduct of the school, and the work accomplished was entirely satisfactory.

DEPOT.

Summer term taught by Miss Ida A. Boyden. Miss Boyden has the faculty of winning the love and esteem of her pupils, thereby making her school very pleasant and profitable.

Fall term taught by Miss Laura M. Foster. Miss Foster is a teacher of ability, and worked for the good of her school. The examination showed that rapid and thorough progress had been made.
